When events of such gigantic importance as those which are now attracting the attention of the world are taking place, it is to be expected that political feeling will run high, and such has no doubt been the case in China. But to the credit of the Foreign Communities such feelings have never been permitted to go beyond the bounds dictated hai, this has probably been in a measure due MESAN, the French Consul General while in Hongkong both, the North German and the French Consul deserve much credit for the example they have set to their nationals in this respect. The former displayed special good taste in convening a meeting for the purpose of receiving contributions for the sick and wounded in the army, by sending round a private notice, and by having acted on all occasions with discretion and sound sense. It is the more satisfactory to be able to record this fact, as similar judgment does not according to the Indian papers, appear to have been shown in all places. Nothing, we are confident, can be more contrary to the wishes of those belonging to either nationality than that a great national struggle should in any way be made the cause of a break in the private goodfellowship and esteem which kuits together, the small bodies politic in these paris; and the general public, the officials immediately concerned and the China press, have unanimously abstained from allusions to calculated to ruffle the susceptibilities of our sympathy with the misfortunes which close to his right side, with the muzzle upwards, possible to raise a subscription for the aid struck two boys who were standing close by waitof the wounded to be divided equally be-

There are, of course, certain difficulties to remove. It is not likely that the Chinese would consent to the occupation of the country by the troops merely of one nation, as they would justly fear that this would be ing foreign nations interested in the security of the country, whereby a joint occupation of the country could be secured without matemanner of the Gordon and Burgeving troops, t would be quite certain that, before very long, they would be employed in some service which could not be justified according to European ideas. S. A. HOLMES, Esq., U.S. Consul. DEAR SIN, -I am requested, by an ananimous vote of the American residents bere, to write to you on their behalf, to request you to obtain a steamer, a gunboat if possible, to come to Tungchow Thursday morning of this, week, to remove us from this place. Our reasons for this action I will give below. We have credible grounds for believing that official communications were received here, some time since, from Teeng Kwo Far, and ally, some time this Autumn. It is believed. here, that the Chi-haien and the principal military officer, who were summoned "to the provincial capital some weeks ago, went for the upress purpose of being instructed as to what they should do with us, and as to the preparations they should make for defending his city in case of war. The Chi Hsien came back from Chi Nan Foo last week, went on to Chefoo immediately to communicate with the Tao Tai, and has retured to Tung Chow, The chief military mandarin of this city is expected bere three days hence, and it is said that he is bringing two thousand soldiers with him. Some reports state that, in the event of a defeat of revenge on us here; others that they will hold We hear that a very large military force is being collected in Chi-nan-foo. There is a great deal of excitement bere again; and, since he return of the Chi haion, the principal men of the city are baving frequent secret conferences with the officers. We have learned, from independent sources, that the people are divided, some of them opposing any movement against us and some of them favouring it. The people generally expect that an attack will be made upon us on the fifteenth of this present Chinese month; and we have received intelligence through our native Christians at Daivang and Ping tu, comfirming these reports. The Chinese connected with us are urged, by their friends, to get away from us by all means before the fifteenth; and there is reason to anticipate that they may be obliged to do so, is order to save their lives, if we remain here

It is very probable that it will be impossible for us to leave Tungchow, if we delay long. We think that, even now, we would find difficulty in getting away by the ordinary means of and it were necessary.

preventive service to suppress effectually the amuggling now carried on, would entail on the Chinese Government an expenditure which would be as large almost as would be required for the suppression of piracy, and the Hongkong Government could not fail to see the mistake of perpetuating the cause of what would be such | MUSLIN SKIRTS AND GARIBALDIES. atter waste. By not levying the duty on Opium andedut the port and then re-shipped in For ign vessels to a Treaty Port, but only on Opium abipped in Chinese janks, the present freedom of the port would not be in the least curtailed; while its shipping interest would possibly be benefited by the effect of the measure in reducing the employment of junks. In the present financial condition of the colony the proposal to let it have a commission, so to speak, on the revenue derived from the trade in which it takes such an important part, might not be badly received. Lastly, as an indication of the manner in which the proposal might betaken by the pub-lic, I quotofrom Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s latter of last year to the Governor on the revision of the Treaty, a remark concerning the existing regulation affecting the transhipment of Hongkong goods at Treaty Ports. They Bay : "This restriction, while directly inimical to the interests of Hongkong, is not really requisito to the protection of the Chinese revenue; becomes Your Excellency is doubtless Wishing you and your officers as pleasant a ready to device and enforce measures which would fully secure the object." If this remark would not bear application; in some such marner as I suggest to the opium revenue, it would be destitute of meaning but I do not think that either Jardine, Matheson and Co., or the Mercantite Community generally (now well disposed to the Customs), would seriously oppose the measure, if they were assured that it would be applied without inconvenience to their business. While Hongkong makes such a large breach as it at present does in the tariff, it is difficult for merchants to make the consideration of the Maritime revenue now collected by the Chinese Government, as strong Josephine Frank, Hiogo; Mrs. L. an argument as it ought to be, for improving the conditions under which trade is carried on at the Treaty Ports and in the interior. The closing of the brench might induce the Chinese Government to enter willingly upon the necessary reforms, and would as not the least important of its result enable the Customs' department to adjust itself with the creation of as few restrictions and the establishment of as or 30 men can an ordinary one. The supply of few new agents as possible to the future open- water and chemicals can be constantly kept up, ing of the whole Coast to Foreign shipping. 7.—I have availed myself, somewhat lengthily, of the present opportunity, to express opinions which I have for some time entertained on this subject. The opium duty is the import duty of China; and without dealing with the principal circumstances affecting its collection, no revision of the Tariff and trade regulations can be worthy to be called a revision. I think there is reason to hope that the time has come for the two Governments concerned in this question to be able to act upon the fact that in ill matters belonging to commerce and the maintenance of good order on the sea, the duty Ton the Coast a portion of the funds TO OEDERER CARTE NOIR. collected under the Tariff, it is not likely that the British Government would refuse to change a state of affairs under which the operation of that Tariff must be a business of great difficulty and expense. THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS

DOETS of all ages have celebrated in song the beauty of flowers. Their faucies have ever delighted in likening the purest and holiest sentiments and feelings of the human heart to the floral beauties they so much admired. Every flower, from the tiny but fragrant Lily of the Valley to the gandy Sunflower, has been seized upon and made to do duty as the representative of some condition, attribute, or action in life The sweet Verbena is the mute representative of "Sensibility." While the fragrant Tuberose speaks of "dangerous pleasures," the Wild Rose tells only of "Simplicity." The Damisk Rose is the sign of "Youthful Freshness," while the glaring Peony is "Auger." But there is another property possessed by the flowers equally if not more important then, their beauty of form and color ; -we refor to the fragrance they exhale. What can compare with the breath of the blooming rose or the tender fragrance of the virgin lily? Art tries and tries in vain to equal them. Chemistry, which seems to know no limit to its powers of simulation, fails com pletely in its efforts at producing the delicacy, combined with the richness of Nature's perfumes; and, with the single exception of MURRAY & LANMAN'S

FLORIDA WATER. We know of no preparation where the simple and natural fragrance of the flowers is preserved unaltered and unimparied. The flowers themselves fade quickly away, and their exquisite breath is soon turned to the noxious gases of door; but in this delightful floral water their perfume is seized upon at the moment when most fragrant, and preserved for all time, unohongenble, as an accessory to the toilet.
